

European Research Council
Established by the European Commission

Call for Applications, Post-Doctoral Fellowship

The “Structural vs. Individual Aspects of Gender Inequality” research project, funded by the European Research Council and directed by Prof. Hadas Mandel of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Tel Aviv University, invites applications from suitably qualified candidates in the social sciences to join our project.

The opening is for two post-doctoral fellowships, each including a scholarship of approximately $30,000 per year.

The fellowship will be for a period of between one and three years, and will start in September 2019. (Some flexibility is possible.)

Deadline for Submissions - 28th of February 2019.

We are looking for applicants seeking to deepen their understanding of the complex mechanisms shaping current-day gender inequality, across a multitude of meaningful socio-economic outcomes and social contexts.

European Research Council
Established by the European Commission

Applicants should be knowledgeable and experienced in analyzing comparative cross-country and longitudinal survey data, and theorizing on processes determining change in social inequality.

Key skills and qualifications:

Ph.D. in Sociology, Gender Studies, Political Science, Economics, Labor Studies.

A strong background and proven experience in quantitative research methods and thinking.

A consolidated knowledge of theory and thought relating to gender inequality.

The ability to work both as part of a scholarly community and research team, and to independently self-govern and advance research interests.

Applications should be submitted to the project director, Prof. Hadas Mandel, at hadasm@tauex.tau.ac.il, and to the administrative manager, Amit Lazarus, at amit.lazarus@mail.huji.ac.il.

Applications should include the following documents:

A cover letter describing your research interests and the nature and duration of position you seek with us.

A detailed CV (including list of publications).

European Research Council
Established by the European Commission

A preliminary research proposal (in English; up to three pages) for a research project you would like to pursue in the field of gender inequality.

An academic writing sample (article or dissertation chapter).

Two letters of recommendation, to be sent directly to hadasm@tauex.tau.ac.il.